History

Historical Notes or Provenance

Updated

The railway was extended from Blacktown to St. Marys in 1862. However the station for Mount Druitt was not established until 1881. This cottage became excess to State Rail's needs and it was sold in July of 1988.

The 1881 Station buildings were renewed in the 1950's as part of the upgrade of the stations between Toongabie and Penrith. This 1950's station was later removed again in the 1990's as part of a major modern upgrade of the station.
